Individual receiving home delivered meal must be age eligible. **

The program is funded with Older American Act monies and is not intended for handicapped or disabled persons that do not meet age eligibility standards. Please read below:

- All individuals referred for home delivered meals will receive an assessment by the WE Home Health Agency Long Term Care Consultation Team.
- Participant under 60 may receive meals if they qualify for CAC (Community Alternative Care), TBI (Traumatic Brain Injury) or CADI (Community Alternatives for Disabled Individuals) Waiver Programs. Please contact White Earth Home Health Agency @ 218-983-3286, extension 1277 for assessment information.
- Must be homebound without transportation or family members to prepare nutritious meals for them.
- Must have medical condition that makes them unable to attend a congregate site. A medical referral is required.
- Special efforts and priority will be made to reach those who are frail, disabled or functionally impaired.
- Spouses and/or caregiver may be eligible to receive a meal.
- The White Earth Elderly Nutrition will require periodic review of home delivered meal recipients by the White Earth Home Health Agency for continued eligibility.
- A donation of $2.00 per meal is suggested; however service may not be denied to an older individual based on willingness or ability to contribute toward the cost of the meal.

 Please note: Eligible age for Elbow Lake, Naytahwaush, and White Earth sites is 60 (Title III) and eligible age for Rice Lake and Pine point is 55 (Title VI). If you have any questions regarding the home delivered meal service, please call Carol Fabre, ENP Coordinator at 218-983-3286, extension 1266.
